

Use other types of records.
For example, street medicine records.

Use data that is not numerical but descriptive words for assessment

Include reasons for using public services or resources in public service records. For example, the reason for ER visits.

Get more input from people rather than trusting the computer

The county should offer ways, for example, phone line of staffs, for people to advocate for themselves if they think their score is lower than it should be

Host community workshop to encourage input from community members within various social groups, for example, LGBTQ groups and homeless youth.

Create public institutions (for example, hospitals) that are more welcoming and more trauma-informed

Create more housing resources

Better training program to educate service providers about trauma-informed care and harm reduction example, hospitals) that are more welcoming and more trauma-informed
